

WORDS FROM THE VICE PRESIDENT

After a few years of quiet we are trying to make Archangels a significant player. Most of you have encountered Brad Stuckey, either in person at shows, etc. or electronically by way of phone or social media. Brad is an energetic young man who is dedicated to reinvigorating the American Archangel Club and increase the popularity of our beautiful breed. We need to support his efforts. Show a few birds, both locally and at any club meets that you can. High quality Archangels are beautiful and in high demand when people see the striking color and iridescence that make the Archangel special. If you have excess good stock, get others started.

We have recently had some excellent publicity in the hobby's printed press, the NPA Quarterly and the Purebred Pigeon. Our breed is getting attention. Thanks to those who are helping promote Archangels with photos and articles.

Hope that you are having a good breeding season with your birds. Remember to put some of them in the upcoming shows and spread the beauty around.

Tim Kvidera
timkvidera@yahoo.com